1. ELIGIBILITY FOR FINANCIAL SUPPORT/ DETERMINATION OF RATE	Eligibility for funding is based on factors related to the child, including: special needs, age 3 or over, sibling group, adverse parental background, and/or racial or ethnic minority.¹ There is no means test for families.² The AAP benefit is a negotiated amount based on the needs of the child and the circumstances of the adoptive family.³ The responsible public agency negotiates the amount of the benefit and determines the amount based on AAP regulations. The AAP payment may not be more than the child would have received in family foster care.⁴ Adoptive parents determine how the AAP funds are spent.⁵	Some relative guardians are eligible.⁶ The payment rate is based on the rate the child was receiving in foster care and is set by state statute.⁷ A special care increment is available in the same amount that the child was receiving while in foster care.⁸ Child must be placed in the relative home for 12 consecutive months.⁹ The legal guardian has the obligation to spend Kin-GAP funds for the benefit of the child but is not financially liable to support the child with the guardian's own funds.	All non-relative guardians are eligible.¹⁰ The payment is based on the child's age, and the rate is set by regulation.¹¹ A special care increment may be individually applied.¹² The legal guardian has the obligation to spend funds for the benefit of the child but is not financially liable to support the child with the guardian's own funds.	When a child is in a county licensed foster home, or with a relative and is "federally eligible", foster care funds are based on the child's age.¹³ A special care increment may be individually applied.¹² If the child is in a relative placement and does not meet federal eligibility guidelines, the relative can apply for CALWORKS.¹⁴ The Foster Family Agency (FFA), group home, or residential treatment rate applies when the child is in a certified FFA home, group home, or residential treatment program & these rates do not include a special care increment.¹⁵

2. PAYMENT AMOUNT- BASIC RATE	The basic payment amount is a negotiated amount based on the needs of the child and circumstances of the adoptive family, but it cannot be more than what the child would have received in family foster care (refer to Foster Family Homes Schedule of Basic Rates). ¹⁶	Kin-GAP payment equals 100 percent of the rate that was paid on behalf of the child while he/she was in foster care, including any specialized care increment the child was receiving. ¹⁷	The basic payment amount is based on the child's age, based on approved foster family home care rates set by the state (refer to Foster Family Homes Schedule of Basic Rates). ¹⁸	The payment amount is based on the type of placement as described above (refer to Foster Family Homes Schedule of Basic Rates). ¹⁹ If the child in foster care is not found to be federally eligible, and is placed with a relative caregiver, then the relative can apply for CalWorks funds to support the child as a 'non-needy caretaker'. ²⁰
3. SPECIAL NEEDS ALLOWANCE	The AAP payment amount is limited to the age related, state approved foster family home care rate, and any specialized care increment for which the child would have been eligible had she or he remained in foster care. ²¹ The specialized care increment is based on the individual needs of the child and what the adoptive parent does to meet those needs. ²²	The specialized care increment is based on the individual needs of the child and what the Legal Guardian does to meet those special needs. These must be in place one month prior to dismissal of dependency. This specialized care increment is locked at the amount that the child was receiving in the month prior to the guardianship being established and continues for as long as the child receives Kin-GAP. ²³	Specialized care increment is based on the individual needs of the child and what the Legal Guardian does to meet those special needs. ²⁴	In county licensed homes or relative placements with foster care funding, the specialized care increment is based on the individual needs of the child and what the caregiver does to meet those special needs. ²⁵ A specialized care increment is not available for FFA, group home placements, or residential treatment placements as these programs have a different rate setting structure; consideration of the special needs of the child are built into the rates. Specialized care increments are not available for relative placements funded through CalWorks.

10. SOCIAL SECURITY (SSA-DEPENDENT OR SURVIVOR BENEFITS)	When an adopted parent(s) retires, becomes unable to work due to disability, or dies, the adoptive child may be eligible for dependent or survivor benefits. ⁴⁶ The adoptive family directly receives the funds for the care of the child.	When the birth parent(s) retires, becomes unable to work due to disability, or dies, the child may be eligible for dependent benefits or survivor benefits. ⁴⁷ If the SSA amount exceeds the Kin-GAP rate, and dependency is dismissed, the Kin-GAP funds may be ended and the full SSA amount can be paid to the Legal Guardian.	When the birth parent(s) retires, becomes unable to work due to disability, or dies, the child may be eligible for dependent benefits or survivor benefits. ⁴⁸ The Legal Guardian may choose to receive social security benefits or foster care benefits; in some cases can receive benefits concurrently.	SSA determines who the payee is for dependent children when the birth parent is disabled or dies. If the county is the representative payee, the SSA benefits can be used to offset the cost of foster care. The SSA funds must be used in the best interest of the child. The county establishes a maintenance account. The Child Welfare Worker is responsible to use funds to meet the child's needs. Maintenance accounts may not exceed $2000.

11. SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS (SSI-BASED ON THE CHILD'S ELIGIBILITY)	An adopted child may be eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits due to a disability. ⁴⁸ The adoptive family directly receives these funds, for the care of the child. (Note: SSI eligibility is based on need and takes account of the income and resources of the adoptive parent in determining eligibility.)	A child receiving Kin-GAP benefits may be eligible for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits due to a disability. The Social Security Administration does not consider the Kin-GAP benefits as income to the child for the purpose of determining eligibility for SSI or the amount of the SSI benefit.	A child receiving non-related legal guardian benefits may be eligible for SSI benefits due to a disability. The Social Security Administration does not consider the non-related legal guardian benefits as income to the child for purposes of determining eligibility for SSI or the amount of the SSI benefit. However, state law considers the SSI benefit as income to the child in determining the amount of the AFDC-FC benefit.	A child receiving AFDC-FC benefits may be eligible for SSI benefits due to a disability. However, if the child is receiving federal foster care benefits, then the amount of the foster care benefit is taken into account in determining whether the child is eligible for SSI benefits and the amount of the SSI benefit. The child can receive both federal foster care and SSI benefits concurrently, but the SSI benefit is offset dollar for dollar by the amount of the federal foster care benefit. If the child is not eligible for federal foster care benefits, then the Social Security Administration does not consider the AFDC-FC benefit in determining eligibility for SSI or the amount of the SSI benefit. However, state law considers a child's receipt of SSI benefits in determining the amount of the AFDC-FC benefit. Counties are permitted to supplement the SSI benefit with AFDC-FC benefits for those children that are not eligible for federal foster care. ⁴⁹
